

Orchard Experimental Restoration Site Field Day: Two Decades of Studies

28 June 2011

Orchard Experimental Site, Boise, ID

Content: The Great Basin Science Delivery Project and the BLM's Great Basin Restoration Initiative invite you to the Orchard Experimental Restoration Site, between Boise and Mountain Home, ID for an informative and interactive field workshop on Tuesday 28 June 2011. This field day will include an overview of the Orchard Experimental Site and discussion on experimental plantings, cheatgrass die-off, sagebrush recovery, and more! Please see the full agenda below. Directions will be sent soon.

Location/Date/Time:

Orchard Experimental Restoration Site, between Boise and Mountain Home, ID, Tuesday, 28 June 2011, 10 am-4 pm (Directions forthcoming)

Agenda:

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 10:00-10:15 | Introductions and overview of the Orchard Experimental Restoration Site, Mike Pellant |
| 10:15-10:25 | Great Basin Science Delivery Project, Génie MontBlanc |
| 10:25-11:45 | Rocky Mountain Research Station experimental plantings, Nancy Shaw |
| 11:45-12:15 | Cheatgrass die-off and plant community, Mike Pellant/Don Major |
| 12:15-1:15 | Lunch (restroom available at Stage Stop truck stop-5 min. drive)
Please bring your own bag lunch. |
| 1:15-2:30 | NRCS Display Nursery, Dan Ogle and Loren St. John |
| 2:30-2:45 | Snotel Weather Station, Dan Ogle |
| 2:45-3:30 | Big Sagebrush Study, Nancy Shaw |
| 3:30-3:45 | Sagebrush recovery after Fall 1989 prescribed fire, Mike Pellant |
| 3:45-4:00 | Closing remarks and workshop conclusion |

Registration: There is no fee to attend the workshop. To register, please send the following information to Génie MontBlanc, emb@cabnr.unr.edu, by 21 June:

Name: _____ Title: _____
Organization: _____
Address: _____
Email: _____ Phone: _____

Thank you!